

Category H

Suraj Shah

Drug Tariff & Reimbursement Manager

Alisha Khatri

Dispensing & Supply Pharmacist

In this webinar

- Introduction to Category H
- Community Pharmacy England feedback on Category H
- Products moving to Category H in March 2026
- Category H price-setting arrangements
- Category H reimbursement arrangements
- Q&A

Introduction - Category H

- A new category, Category H, will be introduced to Part VIIIA of the Drug Tariff from March 2026.
- Category H will include a subset of Category C products with multiple suppliers.
- Community Pharmacy England objected to the proposals.
This change has been IMPOSED by DHSC.

What are the current Category C reimbursement arrangements?

- Category C reimbursement prices are based on the NHS list price of an agreed reference product, often the brand originator.
- Current pricing arrangements for products in Category C assumes that there is no competition between brands/suppliers.
- In reality, there are c.600 products in Category C with competition (between brands and/or generics).

What led to creation of Category H?

- In 2019, DHSC ran a public consultation on a proposal to change the reimbursement arrangements for multi-source Category C products – part of a series of drug reimbursement reforms.
- Only 40% of respondents agreed with DHSC's Category C proposal – concerns expressed around patient safety and dispensing at a loss.
- This change was also included in the latest CPCF 2024/25 and 2025/26 funding settlement as an action to improve margin distribution.

Why is DHSC making these changes?

DHSC wants to set reimbursement prices differently for Category C products with competition in order to:

- better reflect their actual selling prices
- support fairer distribution of retained margin
- help to reduce the distorting effect of certain branded generics on the distribution of retained margin

The background is a light teal color. A large orange rectangle is centered on the page, containing the title text. Scattered around the rectangle are several small squares in teal, orange, and purple. There are also larger teal squares in the corners, some with smaller orange or purple squares on top of them.

Feedback on DHSC's Category H proposal

Concerns about Category H price-setting approach

Community Pharmacy England raised several concerns about DHSC's proposal including that it could potentially:

- Introduce unintended risks to patient safety
- Increase pharmacist and prescriber workload
- Conflict with pharmacy professional standards and regulatory guidance
- Add more uncertainty and disruption to an already fragile supply chain
- Introduce pricing volatility and increase the number of price concessions
- Increase complexity of existing Drug Tariff reimbursement arrangements

Alternative approach

- Community Pharmacy England proposed that for less contentious products with competition in Category C it would be much quicker and easier to change the existing reference product to a more suitable alternative (provided there is sufficient stock in the market to fulfil market demand) – the counterproposal was not accepted by DHSC.
- Separately, we continue to press DHSC and NHS to take action to address the margin distribution caused by branded generics.

Products moving to
Category H from March
2026

Category H in numbers

- Over 100 products appear to fulfil DHSC's Category H entry criteria.
- We have urged DHSC to take a cautious approach with moving products into Category H.
- In light of feedback shared by Community Pharmacy England, DHSC is starting with only 11 products in Category H from March 2026.
- In due course, DHSC's ambition is to include all products that fulfil the Category H entry criteria (in a phased approach).

11 products moving to Category H from March 2026

- Cinchocaine 5mg / Hydrocortisone 5mg suppositories
- Doxazosin 4mg modified-release tablets
- Etodolac 600mg modified-release tablets
- Isosorbide mononitrate 25mg modified-release capsules
- Nicotine 4mg medicated chewing gum sugar free
- Omeprazole 10mg dispersible gastro-resistant tablets
- Omeprazole 20mg dispersible gastro-resistant tablets
- Omeprazole 40mg dispersible gastro-resistant tablets
- Pseudoephedrine hydrochloride 60mg tablets
- Ursodeoxycholic acid 500mg tablets
- Verapamil 120mg modified-release tablets

Product deemed unsuitable for Category H

- Community Pharmacy England highlighted to the Department that the following product categories should be excluded from Category H:
 - Products required or recommended to be prescribed by brand name
 - Products with differences in licensed indications/legal categories
 - Products with different dosage instructions across different brands
 - Products packaged with specific administration devices e.g. inhalers
 - Products without any true competition i.e. made by the same supplier
 - Products also available as non-medicines for e.g. Vitamin D preparations
 - Products affected by national shortage/ongoing supply disruptions

Category H price-setting arrangements

How will new Category H prices be set (1)?

- Category H reimbursement prices will be set using, purchase, sales and volume data gathered by DHSC under the Health Service Products \(Provision and Disclosure of Information\) Regulations 2018.
- The prices will be updated quarterly in March, June, September and December (different cycle to Category A/M price changes).
- Manufacturer and wholesaler sales data will be combined to determine reimbursement prices.

How will new Category H prices be set (2)?

- Data for all available pack sizes will be used for price-setting with reimbursement prices calculated on a price-per-unit basis (except for products classed as special containers).
- An element of margin will be added, but Category H prices will not be adjusted to achieve the overall amount of retained margin (currently £900m).
- Using the price-setting approach above and based on previous analysis carried out by the Department, we understand that most price changes are expected to be generally modest.

Example: Omeprazole 20mg dispersible g/r tablets

- In February 26 Drug Tariff, Omeprazole 20mg dispersible g/r tablets (28) is reimbursed at £13.92 (Category C) based on the list price of Losec MUPS® (Neon Healthcare).
- Another brand Mezzopram® 20mg dispersible g/r tablets (Sandoz Ltd) is also available and this brand has a list price of £9.86 (Feb 2026).
- Once moved to Category H, the reimbursement for generically written prescriptions will no longer be based on the NHS list price of Losec MUPS®.
- The Department will combine actual sales data obtained from all suppliers to work out a price per unit (using a weighted average approach) based on their share of total volumes.
- Branded prescriptions will continue to be reimbursed based on list prices as published on dm+d (Category H price will only apply to generically written prescriptions).

The background is a light teal color. It features several decorative elements: a large teal rectangle in the center, and various smaller squares in teal, orange, and purple scattered around the edges. Some of these squares are grouped together, while others are isolated.

Drug Tariff rules which
apply to Category H

What Drug Tariff rules will apply to Category H?

- Price concession can be requested if drug is unavailable to purchase at or below published Drug Tariff price.
- Brand discount deduction rate of 5% will apply unless the item is DND.
- Out of pocket expenses may be claimed, subject to meeting criteria.
- Broken bulk may be claimed (except for special containers).

Summary

- A new category (Category H) will be added to Part VIIIA of Drug Tariff from March 2026.
- Certain products in Category C available from multiple suppliers will move to Category H in a phased approach.
- DHSC is starting with only 11 products moving to Category H in the first quarter.
- Despite a number of objections and concerns raised by Community Pharmacy England, DHSC took the decision to introduce Category H. This change has been imposed by DHSC.